

7-day sample itinerary to the Netherlands

Day 1

The must-dos of the first day in Amsterdam is walking by the canals or taking a canal tour that will show you the major sights of Amsterdam which includes many places of historical importance.

Day 2

For a nice breakfast amidst nature, head to Goat farm - Geitenboerderij Ridammerhoeve which is in the middle of the Amsterdamse Bos (Amsterdam Forest). Spend some time at the Museum square. Choose your favourite museum to visit.

Day 3

In the month of April, a visit to see the Tulip Gardens is a must. The most spectacular site is in Keukenhoff to see 32 hectares of floriculture and approximately 7 million Tulips on display.

Day 4

Continue your flower experience by visiting the world's largest flower auction market at Aalsmeer. You will have to wake up really early to see the auction in action as by mid-morning, all the flowers are gone and shipped to the corners of the world. In the day, visit tulip fields at areas near Amsterdam such as Leiden.

Day 5

Take a day trip to visit Kroller-Mueller museum. While the Van Gogh museum in Amsterdam is an obvious choice for Van Gogh fan, this museum is unique because Helene Kroller Mueller was the first patron of Van Gogh and started collecting his work before the rest of the world recognised his talent.

Day 6

Day trip to Delft: The Netherlands is famous for its blue pottery. Delft is the old town known for its authentic blue pottery work. The famous painter Vermeer is buried in the Delft church.

Day 7

Day trip to Gouda: Another speciality of Netherlands is its dairy and cheese. The most famous Dutch cheese Edam and Gouda are named after the town they come from. If you visit Gouda on a Thursday morning, you can still see the old rituals of buying and selling Gouda cheese. Don't miss eating their famous cheese soup and stroopwafel.
